 Our Planet Our Future

Your Role in Shaping a Sustainable Future

This June 5th, as we celebrate World Environment Day, it's more than just a date on the calendar—it's a wake-up call for all of us, especially young people, to stand up for our planet. This year, we're rallying around the theme "Ecosystem Restoration," a message that's not just a call to action but a call to arms for our generation. As participants and supporters of the Duke of Edinburgh's International Award ("The Award"), we've already shown we're ready to take on challenges, grow and make a difference. Now it's time to turn our attention to the biggest challenge of all: protecting our environment.

Adventure Awaits: Protecting Our Planet

Think about the most breathtaking places you've seen or wish to visit. Now imagine playing a part in preserving those wonders for future generations. That's what the Award inspires in us through its adventurous journeys. Picture this: a group of the Award adventurers recently helped restore paths in Buskett, combating erosion and protecting local wildlife by planting native trees and monitoring wildlife habitats. This isn't just an adventure; it's a mission. What mission will you take on?

Skills for Sustainability

The Award programme not only encourages outdoor adventures but also fosters skills that make a lasting impact. From starting a community recycling project to learning how to grow your own food sustainably, the skills section is your chance to dive into activities that contribute to a greener planet. Why not use your Award project to champion environmental awareness? Your actions can inspire others to join the cause

Young Voices, Big Impact

Never underestimate the power of your voice. Inspired by Greta Thunberg, young people worldwide are leading the environmental movement, pushing for change, demanding action from leaders, and showing that we refuse to inherit a planet in peril. Through volunteering, Award participants have led beach clean-ups, planted trees, and worked on conservation projects. Now we're calling on you to be part of the next wave of environmental heroes.

Your Call to Action

This World Environment Day, let's not just celebrate – let's act. Here's how you can make a difference:

JOIN OR ORGANISE A LOCAL CLEAN-UP

Whether it's a beach, park, or your local neighbourhood, every bit helps.

REDUCE, REUSE, RECYCLE

Whether it's a beach, park, or your local neighbourhood, every bit helps.

EDUCATE YOURSELF AND OTHERS

Knowledge is power. Learn about environmental issues and share what you know.

ADVOCATE FOR CHANGE

Use your voice on social media, join environmental groups, and push for policies that protect our planet.

The Challenge is Ours

As young people, the future is not only in our hands; it's created by our actions today. Let's show the world what we're capable of. Participating in the Award has already shown us that we can overcome challenges and achieve great things. Now let's apply that determination to safeguarding our planet.

This World Environment Day, let's commit to making every day a day for the environment. Because when it comes to protecting our planet, every action counts and every one of us can make a difference. Are you ready to join the change? Charge or change?

Unite, Protect, Sustain.

Discover the power of collective action for our planet.
